General Information
The information provided on this website is intended to give you a general understanding of Soul Perceptions, the retreats, my approach, and the themes that may arise during a retreat.
The content of this website is intended for general informational purposes only.

The information is not tailored to your personal circumstances and does not constitute medical, psychiatric, psychological, or psychotherapeutic advice, a diagnosis, or an individual treatment plan.

No guarantees can be derived from the information on this website regarding the suitability of a retreat for an individual participant or its outcome.

Nature of the Retreat
Soul Perceptions retreats are focused on personal deepening, self-exploration, awareness, and personal or spiritual development.

Within the retreat, Soul Perceptions does not provide medical or psychiatric treatment, does not make medical or psychiatric diagnoses, and does not prescribe medication. A retreat is not a substitute for professional medical, psychiatric, or psychological care.

Although therapeutic, body-oriented, and integrative approaches may be used during the guidance, this does not mean that the retreat constitutes medical or psychiatric treatment.

Psilocybin-Containing Truffles
During the retreat, psilocybin-containing truffles, also known as sclerotia, may be used. These natural truffles are legally available in the Netherlands and, in their natural form, do not fall under the Opium Act (Opiumwet).

Psilocybin-containing truffles can cause powerful and profound changes in perception, emotions, thoughts, bodily experience, and consciousness. The nature and intensity of the experience vary from person to person and cannot be predicted in advance.

No Guarantee of a Particular Experience or Outcome
Every retreat experience is personal. Soul Perceptions cannot guarantee a specific experience, breakthrough, change, healing, or other outcome.

An experience may be valuable, meaningful, insightful, or connecting, but it may also be experienced as intense, confronting, confusing, or emotionally challenging. Results and effects vary per person and may differ from what someone expects or hopes for beforehand.

Personal stories, experiences, and testimonials shared on this website reflect individual experiences. They are not representative of what every participant will experience and should not be regarded as a promise or guarantee of a similar outcome.

Health, Medication, Age, and Suitability
Participation in a psilocybin retreat is not appropriate or advisable for everyone. An intake and screening process therefore takes place prior to participation. Common contraindications and points of attention can be found in the Frequently Asked Questions.

Soul Perceptions retreats are only available to participants aged 25 or older. Meeting the minimum age requirement does not automatically mean that someone is eligible to participate. Participation remains subject to the intake and screening process and to the assessment of whether the retreat is considered appropriate for the individual concerned.

It is the participant's responsibility to provide complete and truthful information about physical and mental health, diagnoses, medication, substance use, and prior experiences. Any changes that arise after the intake must be reported before the start of the retreat.

If you use medication, have physical or mental health complaints, or are under the care of a doctor, psychiatrist, psychologist, or other healthcare provider, discuss potential participation with that care provider beforehand.

Never stop, change, or reduce prescribed medication solely based on information on this website or in order to participate in a retreat. Always discuss changes in medication with the prescribing doctor or pharmacist.

More information on medication, contraindications, and the screening process can be found in the Frequently Asked Questions and in the documents provided prior to participation.

Personal Responsibility
Participation is voluntary. Participants are expected to make a conscious and considered decision about whether they wish to take part in a retreat and to carefully read and follow all information, instructions, and agreements provided to them.

A participant's personal responsibility does not affect Soul Perceptions' responsibility for the careful execution of the agreed guidance.

Agreements regarding participation, cancellation, liability, and mutual responsibilities are set out in the general terms and conditions and in the documents signed prior to the retreat.

Accuracy of the Website
Soul Perceptions takes care in maintaining the content of this website. However, it cannot be guaranteed that all information is complete, error-free, and up to date at all times.

Information, programmes, prices, availability, and working methods may be changed. For a booked retreat, the current agreement, General Terms and Conditions, and information provided directly to the participant will apply.
